

NOTICE

Postponement of B.Ed. Online Counselling

In view of the large number of applicants, only a limited number of top-enlisted applicants from each subject/category, in the ratio of 1:2 to 1:4 for the first round, will be called for online counselling and document verification for admission. Further rounds of counselling, if required, will be notified separately on the University website.

The revised schedule and other details regarding the online counselling will be notified on the University website in due course.

Applicants are advised to regularly check the University website for further updates.
